Five Are Missing As Freak Wave Hits Lake Front

Huge Wave Sweeps Coast Of Lake Erie From Cleveland To Lorain Last Night

STUDENTS IN BEACH PARTY SUBMERGED

CLEVELAND, June 5.—
(INS)—At least five persons were reported missing today as the result of a huge, freak wave which swept the coast of Lake Erie from Cleveland to nearby Lorain late last night.

Coast Guardsmen said the three were believed aboard a yacht in a fishing party. No sight of either the missing persons or the boat was reported, however.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the boat might have slipped into port after being struck by the huge wave. He added the Coast Guard was not continuing the search.

Fishermen Missing
Two fishermen also were reported missing from a west side Cleveland pier. Two others were washed into the lake but swam ashore.

Several small fishing boats were reported swept from view and a sailboat reportedly capsized, but the Coast Guard after a search of several hours said nothing had been found to indicate overturned boats or loss of life.

Western Reserve University students attending a beach party said the wave swept 15 feet onto the beach, submerging the party.
Cause of the wave still was undetermined.

Foreign Aid Fund Cuts Are Made In House

Administration Looks To Senate To Restore Cuts
For European Re-

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The administration looked to the senate today to restore the cuts made by the house in the funds for foreign aid, including the European recovery program.

Sen. Connally (D) Texas, administration spokesman on foreign affairs, predicted that "the funds will be increased". Connally is the ranking minority member of the senate foreign relations committee.

The foreign aid appropriation bill, containing six billion dollars for seven relief and recovery projects in Europe and Asia, was sent to the senate last night by a voice vote after a continuous 11-hour session of the house. Members, tired by the ordeal, had no desire to sit through a roll call vote and no request was made for one.

Reject Effort
The house also rejected 117-67 an effort to eliminate a 10-million dollar ECA allotment enabling American newspapers, press associations, magazines and motion picture firms to obtain dollars for foreign currencies.

The currency conversation ap-

Speeding Up Work On Pageant For Sesqui

With a month to go before New Castle's Sesquicentennial, the work of building the pageant is well under way. Director Rene has been on the job for two weeks and since arriving here has had the help of a number of committees locally.

Mrs. John E. Elliott is the chairman of the Talent Committee with Mrs. Lester McClelland as co-chairman and a large committee of local men and women has been rounding up talent, assigning parts and caring for the details necessary to the production.

"Castle-Cade" the official title of the pageant will be an episodic presentation of historical facts concerning New Castle since 1798 down to the present time.

The arrival of John Carlyle Stewart and his party, the trading with the Indians, visits of early pioneers, the development of New Castle as a trading center, the coming of the canal, the railroads, the industries and on down to the present day, all of them will be delineated.

Band music, chorals, colorful costumes, all of these will be a part of the huge pageant to be presented nightly from July 5 to 10 at Taggart Stadium.

Rehearsals for various units of the pageant are under way. Inside of ten days Director Rene expects to have a well rounded pageant rehearsed, ready to be put together for New Castle's 150th birthday celebration.

A million-dollar fire raged in downtown Duluth for two and a brought under control.

One fireman, George Ledingglass struck him in the back.

A high wind fanned the flames which broke out shortly before last out an entire business block.

Negotiations On Coal Contract To Resume Monday

Miners And Operators To Resume Sessions As Lewis
Complies With Court Order

EXPECT EFFORT TO SPEED PARLEY

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Soft coal operators said today that they expect John L. Lewis to dispense with the usual preliminaries and get down to business quickly, Monday, on the making of a new 1948 coal contract.

Operators have not yet heard the UMW president's demands but they believe the union's terms will be speedily set forth in the resumption of "wage negotiations brought about by an order of Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.

Expect Speed-Up
The mine owners anticipate that Lewis will do away with the customary "town meeting" stage of bargaining, during which he often has employed a week of the contract talks to denounce the industry in public sessions.

The UMW 200-man policy committee was sent home some time ago and 10-man subcommittees of both the union and management are expected to plunge immediately into the details of writing a new agreement to cover the 400,000 bituminous miners.

Little Time Left
There is little time left for the job. The current contract expires June 30 and the miners begin an official 10-day vacation June 29.
If a new contract is not ready by the end of the vacation, the disputes are expected to follow their "no contract, no work" policy and remain idle.

Lewis and the operators first assembled last May 18 in a national bargaining parley but the meeting collapsed the following day when the union leader refused to seat Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association.

Lewis said he was willing to admit Moody as the direct representative of the association's 16 regional groups, which signed the current contract, but not as head of the association.

Judge Goldsborough settled the controversy with an injunction

Congress Passes Assistance Bill

Aid To Dependent Children, Aged and Blind, Boosted By 104 Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS)—
Federal grants-in-aid to states for assistance to dependent children, the aged and the blind were boosted by 104 million dollars today.

Congress passed a bill authorizing the increases and sent it to the White House after the house concurred in senate amendments granting the increases.

The bill raises government contributions to states for aged persons and the blind a maximum of $7.50 per month and aid to dependent children $3.00 per month.

The measure also kills treasury and federal security agency regulation which would add 750 thousand persons to the old age pension system. The agencies wished to broaden the definition of "employee" to include salesmen and others now denied benefits, but congress voted to retain the old common law definition on which pensions are now based.

after three weeks of bargaining time had been lost. He ordered the union to bargain with the Southern Association, asserting that the Lewis failed to prove his charges that the SCPA's participation would "harm" and "retard" negotiations. The jurist commented:

"The evidence before me indicates that what the union wants to do is to destroy the SCPA because it is harder to deal with a unit of that kind than it would be to deal with 14 separate groups of operators."

"If Lewis is able to bargain successfully—as I am sure he will be—with other operators and make a contract, the SCPA will be compelled to sign the contract or else it will get no coal."

The UMW president promptly announced his compliance with the court decree and offered to begin negotiations today, tomorrow or Monday. The operators picked the latter date because many of their group were away from Washington.

JEWISH FORCES BATTLE TO CRUSH EGYPTIAN TROOPS

closing a ring around a strong Egyptian army force trapped at Isdud, 22 miles south of the capital.

The Egyptians, who entered Palestine on the ending of the mandate three weeks ago, were cut off from supplies and reinforcements, and their position is said to be precarious.

The four-ship Egyptian task force, repulsed by the Jews yesterday, was bolstered on mission to land reinforcements to aid the beleaguered troops. It included a troop transport and two British-type landing craft.

Israeli shore batteries, ships and bombing planes joined to turn back the Egyptian force, spearheaded by the 2,640-ton vessel Al Amira Fawzia. Tel Aviv residents watched as at least one plane scored a direct hit on an Egyptian corvette.

Large-Scale Fighting. Large-scale fighting was reported taking place at Jenin, northern apex of the "triangle of terror," 40 miles northwest of Tel Aviv. In the triangle bounded by Jenin, on the west by Tulkarm, and on the south by Nablus, Arabs have concentrated a strong striking force aimed at cutting the Jewish state in two.

A Baghdad communique claimed that the Jewish attack on the Arab stronghold was repulsed by Israeli troops with Jewish losses of 500 dead and 1,000 wounded. A trans-Jordan communique said that Jews had entered Jenin, but had been beaten back 15 miles.

TRUMAN MAKES FIRST SPEECH OF WESTERN TOUR

relative in this country. This is the kind of personal tie which strengthens friendly international relations."

Mr. Truman spoke from the same platform where he accepted the Democratic vice presidential nomination four years ago. A gold medal of King Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, which was struck from a mold dating back to 1734, was presented to the president by Prince Bertil. The medal had never before been bestowed on an American.

After Farm Vote. Aboard President Truman's train en route to Omaha, June 5.—(INS)—President Truman invaded Nebraska today, frankly out to capture every possible vote to assure his own re-election and the election of a Democratic majority in Congress.

Today, the chief executive will go after the farm vote.

Here, in the heart of the nation's rich farm lands, Mr. Truman will outline proposals for legislation guaranteeing the farmer permanent price supports and other aids.

The presidential train had hardly left Washington on its two-week, 18-state swing across the continent before Mr. Truman started talking politics.

The farther Washington receded over the horizon, the more fervent the president became in his talks of re-election and his slashing attack on the Republican Congress.

With huge relish, finally, at a dinner given last night by Mayor Martin H. Kennelly at the Palmer House in Chicago, Mr. Truman said flatly he is sure that four more years in the White House lie ahead for him.

McFEATHERS-WILDER CHURCH WEDDING

One of the loveliest of the early summer weddings was solemnized at a candlelight ceremony Friday evening in Highland U. P. church uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Irene McFeathers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McFeathers of 206 Summer avenue, and Lewis Sylvester Wilder, son of Mrs. Lewis R. Wilder of 414 East Leasure avenue.

Dr. D. L. Ferguson officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock before an embankment at the altar of white gladioli, palms and ferns and branched candelabra with lighted white candles. A number of guests attended the ceremony.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, the bodice fashioned with a marquisette yoke below the high round neckline. Dainty seed pearl embroidery edged the yoke below. The long sleeves were pointed at the wrist and the full skirt fell into a graceful circular train. Her circular veil edged with lace fell from a coronet of orange blossoms fashioned from pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with an orchid corsage in the center and for something old, a lace handkerchief carried by her mother at her wedding.

As maid of honor Miss Lois Mer-shimer wore a gown of French blue faille fashioned with soft drapery on the bodice below a fluted petal collar edging the off-the-shoulder neckline and a hoop-skirt caught up at intervals with pink roses over a lace underskirt. Pastel summer flowers formed her headress and she carried a cascade bouquet of the same flowers tied with pink ribbon streamers. Bridesmaids Mrs. Jack Colley and Miss Betty McGuire wore gowns of the same style, but of salmon pink faille, and they wore flower headresses and carried bouquets tied with French blue ribbon streamers.

Edward Davenport of Chevy Chase, Md., served the groom as best man and ushers were Edward Callahan and Jack Colley.

Proceeding the ceremony a recital of organ music was played by Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken, and soloist, Miss Betty Aubel, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and the Lord's Prayer.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were received in the church vestibule for a congratulatory period. Afterward there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents for 125 guests.

Refreshments were served buffet style from the bride's table in the dining room which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake and lighted pink and ivory tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Mary Layman and Miss Bertha Campbell of Indiana, both aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Hazel Lewis of Connecticut, an aunt of the groom, were aides.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilder left by car on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will be at home in an apartment at 32 North Mill street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilder are graduates of New Castle high school. She is employed at the Bell Telephone company and he attends Youngstown college and is employed at the Johnson Bros. company.

Tiffereh Sisterhood To Install Members of the Tiffereh Israel Sisterhood will hold their closing meeting of the year with installation of officers at the synagogue on Tuesday evening, at 8:30.

Win Latin Honors At Senior High

Names Of High School Pupils
Making Record For Year
Announced Today

Continuing a custom of many years, the department of Latin at the senior high school announces the names of students winning honors in the classics.

The highest honor of the year went to Don Levine for the highest average ranking in Latin among the graduates. He received the $10 dollar award of the Lawrence County Bar association for excellence in Latin and the Summa Cum Laude medal presented by Senate Romanus, the student organization pledged to encourage students to enroll in Latin classes.

Other seniors receiving the Senatus Romanus medals were: Pauline Christos and Nancy Laman-cusa. The medal given to Pauline was inscribed, Magna Cum Laude, and that of Nancy, Cum Laude. As almost the entire Virgil class was made up of honor students, the competition for awards was unusually keen.

The level of Latin work pursued by the juniors is based on Cicero. Here the Summa Cum Laude certificate went to Nancy Hinsh. Dolores Weidner placed for Magna Cum Laude and Don Weisbaker for Cum Laude.

At the sophomore level the class reads selections from Caesar's "Commentaries on the Gallic War". Ten per cent of the sophomore enrollment in Latin were awarded certificates of excellence. To Allan Warnath went the one inscribed Summa Cum Laude; to John Bakuhn, the Magna Cum Laude rank, and to the following Cum Laude: Richard Lee, Regina Owoc, Ruth Thompson, Leroy Julian, Miriam Blau, Marcelyn Burkholder, Rosalie White, Peter Mancino, Betty Leddy, Carol Barth, Elmer Mora, John Ranier, Paula Allison, Judith Metz and George Kegg.

All students who win honors in the Latin classes are eligible for membership in Senatus Romanus. The initiation of these successful sophomores will take place in the early part of the coming school year. The three juniors are already members in virtue of their successful record in the sophomore year.

LOOKING AT LIFE

been discharged from government service and that her whereabouts is unknown.

The general, it was officially announced, had charged our soldiers with "beating" old women, not with "biting" them.

In the American and British section of Berlin, the whole thing had been taken as a huge joke, but in Russian circles the matter had become a matter of great official indignation and extreme seriousness.

Here is another item. A semi-scientific popular American magazine recently published—as pure fiction—a story about a new method of examining new-born babies.

The whole thing was obviously the figment of some writer's prolific imagination.

But the Literaturnaya Gazeta of Moscow, a very serious and learned literary magazine, published a long article telling its readers that there was another proof of sinister imperialism and the pernicious activities of American science.

In America the article was taken as entertainment, and people laughed at it. In Russia it became a sinister plot.

So you see, what we have to do in our conferences with the Russian government is to make them laugh.

I therefore propose that in any meetings with Stalin our two ambassadors extraordinary should be Sophie Tucker and Irving Berlin.

Both are Russian-born and can speak to the Russians in their own language (I hope).

Sophie is not only a singer but a top comedienne and instead of arguing with Stalin she can tell him some of those hefty jokes that have made millions laugh.

And if Irving Berlin can't move Stalin with one of his lovely songs, such as "Not for just a day but always"—then I give up. And turn statesmanship back to you, gentle men.

COVERED BRIDGES OF LAWRENCE CO.

(Fourth in a Series)

McCONNELL'S BRIDGE OVER SLIPPERY ROCK CREEK

In the Princeton district is another cluster of three of Lawrence county's seven remaining covered bridges. They are all within a distance of a mile on the Slippery Rock creek and Jones Run.

McConnell's Mill bridge is located at picturesque McConnell's Mill, spanning the Slippery Rock less than 100 yards downstream from the mill dam. It was built in the year 1874 and is in excellent state of preservation.

Probably the best known of the covered bridges in the county, McConnell's bridge is visited yearly by thousands of persons, many of whom come from other states. Other attractions at this bridge are the historic mill and the beautiful gorge and the natural beauty of the surrounding area.

To reach the bridge, New Castle visitors will find it easiest by traveling through the village of Princeton off route 422. A short distance out of Princeton the road forks, one branch being macadam and the other dirt. One and six-tenths of a mile down the dirt road is McConnell's mill and the bridge.

This is the fourth in a series of articles on the covered bridges of Lawrence county. Appearing in conjunction with the coming of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration to emphasize points of historic interest.

Hebron is a very ancient sacred city in southern Palestine. It figures in tradition as one of the oldest cities of the country and was formerly called Kirjath Arba.

When put alongside these amounts, the cost of the president's trip seems chicken feed. Yet the fiction of a non-political tour will constantly rise to plague Mr. Truman.

Obviously Stassen's fast and furious campaign around the country, with chartered planes and paid radio time, has cost a pretty penny. According to one report, the Stassen camp has gone into the red upward of $100,000.

It is reported in Ohio that well over $150,000 was spent in behalf of Senator Robert A. Taft in the primary campaign in that state. The Dewey backers poured out money like water for newspaper space, radio time and for general expenses.

That is why the suggestion has been seriously advanced that the cost of presidential campaigns for all parties be paid out of the federal treasury. It has been argued with considerable force that the cost to the average citizen would, in the long run, be a lot less if Uncle Sam footed the entire bill.

Republican candidates have spent phenomenal sums in their primary campaigns this year. Harold Stassen charged in the Oregon contest that Thomas E. Dewey was spending $250,000 in that state alone.

Gifts from your GARDEN

POTTED FLOWERS MAKE AN IDEAL GIFT

IF YOU'RE stumped for an appropriate gift for birthdays or convalescing friends, here's a suggestion that will save you a hurry trip to the shopping district.

PLANT YOUR flowers for your front yard in flower pots. Then sink them into the earth of your flower border and cover them over with a protecting mulch. So once a week to keep them healthy. When a gift occasion arises, just dig up a pit, scrub it off and decorate it with ribbon or tissue paper. It will make a sure the plants get a good watering at least changing gift for any occasion.

Summer Workers Must Have Social Security Numbers

Graduates Taking Full Or Part Time Jobs Reminded To Obtain Cards

High school or college students who will take jobs for the first time this summer were cautioned today that they would need social security account number cards, by Myron Milbourn, manager of the New Castle Social Security Administration office.

"Students who are being graduated or others who plan to take full or part time work during the vacation months, will need cards if they have never worked before in employment covered by the Social Security Act," Mr. Milbourn said.

If a person ever had an account number card before, they should not request another one. If the card has been lost, a duplicate bearing the original number can be secured by visiting or writing to the Social Security office, 500 Frew Building, 10 West Washington street, New Castle, Pennsylvania. The important thing to remember is not to ask for a new card, but to request a reissue of the one you had previously, according to Mr. Milbourn.

In addition, those who are receiving monthly Social Security benefits should remember that these benefits are suspended for any month in which they earn more than $14.99 in jobs covered by the law. In this area, Mr. Milbourn stated, about 1500 young people still under 18 are receiving monthly survivors benefits through their mothers or guardians. After the vacation period, when a child returns to school and has stopped work, these benefit payments start again upon notification of the Social Security administration.

WCTU Protesting Big Liquor Sign

CHICAGO, June 5.—(INS)—The ire of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and its national president, Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, is aroused today over the construction of the world's largest electric sign in Chicago.

What Mrs. Colvin and the WCTU don't like is that the sign will advertise liquor.

The sign, sponsored by a distillery, will display two giant replicas of whisky bottles and will cover half an acre on Chicago's Outer drive (north of Randolph street).

Mrs. Colvin sent a letter to Mayor Martin H. Kennelly demanding that work on the huge sign be stopped because she says it will portray a "scene from skid row" and give visitors "a bad impression of Chicago."

The mayor is thinking the matter over.

Tax Shortage In Philadelphia May Reach Two Million

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—(INS)—Detectives probing Philadelphia's tax shortage scandal which was revealed by the suicide of a city employee estimated losses over an eight-year period today at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

County Detective James McColgan said his new estimate was "conservative," and declared that the suicide victim, William C. Foss, may have been a "front for someone higher up."

He also placed in the "frontman" category, former Democratic Assemblyman Raphael I. Monks, for whom a criminal warrant has been sworn. Monks is object of a police search.

McColgan said a total of $750,000 had been stolen in taxes from only two amusements fields—one sports promoter and independent movie houses.

He said a complete check would show huge shortages in other amusement tax funds, such as night clubs, theaters and chain movies.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 5.—What Hollywood (or the gossip columnists) need today is a good movie feud.

Someone tried to start one between Clark Gable and Walter Pidgeon on the "Command Decision" set—but Pidgeon scotched that one by denying that he objected to playing an older role than Gable. So that feud died a-borning.

And then while Lauren Bacall and Claire Trevor were working on "Key Largo"—the only women in the cast—gossip reared its ugly head again, only to be sat upon by Bacall with the remark:

"We're as chummy as a couple of Republicans. Either actresses have learned to keep their temperaments to themselves—or their mouths shut."

Possibly the first and most famous of the female film feuds was the Gloria Swanson-Pola Negri hostility which fed the fan mags and gossip columnist mill for years.

Then along came Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins and another good old fashioned feud during "The Old Maid" and "Old Acquaintance."

Barbara Stanwyck and Ruth Chatterton were mutually disharmonious, as were Clara Bow and Nancy Carroll. And although there was never a recognized feud between Marlene Dietrich and Mae West, they were never famous for their compatibility.

Will there be a future one between Bette Davis and Joan Crawford—if Warners is so bold as to co-star their two queens? Or will that studio dare be so bold?

W. H. WEINSCHENK

A man who has never moved from the confines of Lawrence county has lived and prospered as one of its best-known sons. He is W. H. Weinschenk, owner of the Weinschenk Greenhouses on Savannah road, Shenango township, head of one of the largest vegetable-raising establishments in the country.

Nearing his eightieth birthday, Mr. Weinschenk has relinquished his hold as the active director of the large farm and hot-houses, his sons, George and Joseph, assuming the active part of the business about a decade ago.

Still spry and alert, despite a side-tracking illness a short time ago, Mr. Weinschenk now devotes most of his time to his pet hobby, the culture of rare flowering plants, a job that interests him greatly.

He was born in Taylor township, the son of George G. and Margaret Weinschenk and at the age of 9 moved to Shenango township, attending school there. He also attended Duff's College in Pittsburgh in the year 1885.

Entered into business it was only natural that he would follow in the footsteps of his father, a vegetable grower before him, and in the year 1894 he started into the business. He also married Levina Reed the same year and located in the house they still occupy.

Mr. Weinschenk saw his vegetable growing concern grow in size from a business that used to employ wagons that canvassed stores of the vicinity into a large, bustling depot that today sends trucks rumbling all over the east and mid-west with field crops and hot-house varieties for thousands of consumers.

In the year 1905 he constructed his large greenhouse which at that time was the largest in the world and still stands as one of the landmarks of this county. The enormous building contains over an acre and one-half of glass. In it are grown vegetable specialties, tomatoes, snap and lima beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, cabbage, etc., while the fields themselves supply the other bulk that make up the shipments to various points.

Organized Association The business has a working staff of some 20 persons the year around, with the personnel appreciably increased during the summer months when hundreds of pickers are hired.

Some 40 years ago Mr. Weinschenk helped in the organization of the Vegetable Growers Association of America and is its past president. He is also a charter member.

He is also a Rotarian of long standing and has been closely affiliated with the Savannah Methodist church near his home for a great number of years, serving as superintendent for 27 years, as a trustee and teaching a men's Bible class for over 40 years. During a long span of years he never missed a Sunday at the church and holds a prized certificate for his record.

The Weinschens have three daughters in their family besides the two sons—Mrs. William Cobau of New Castle and Margaret and Virginia, at home.

Farm Safety Week
Set For July 25-31

HARRISBURG, June 5.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst will be chairman of the Pennsylvania campaign in the national observance of Farm Safety week, July 25-31. It was announced today by the state agriculture department.

Horst, who has served in a similar capacity for the past several years, was appointed chairman by Maynard H. Coe, director of the National Safety Council's Farm division.

Many Fatalities Accident reports show that nearly 8000 mishaps occur annually on Pennsylvania farms, Horst said. Nearly one per cent result in death, he added.

"Farm safety week is designed to remind farm people that accidents are preventable and that they should practice habits of safety every week of the year," he declared.

Plans for the observance in Pennsylvania will be formed at a meeting in Harrisburg Monday of the executive board of the Pennsylvania rural safety committee, Horst said.

LORD STANLEY IS DIVORCING SYLVIA

LONDON, June 5.—(INS)—A London court announcement said today that a special hearing has been set for June 14 in the divorce action of Lord Stanley of Alderley against his wife, Sylvia, widow of Douglas Fairbanks Sr.

Lord Stanley, heir to a centuries-old barony, entered a petition for divorce yesterday. The case is not to be defended by the former British actress who was Lady Ashley at the time of her 1936 marriage to Fairbanks.

UNIQUE ASSIGNMENT

HARRISBURG, June 5.—(INS)—State police are baffled today by a unique assignment. They were summoned to catch a "thief" who stole milk from the Dean Shoop family of Lykens, R. D., by taking it right from their cow.

ODOES NO REASON HARRISBURG, June 5.—(INS)—The state unemployment compensation board of Harrisburg today held that objection to odds was not sufficient reason for quitting a job. The board denied the claim for jobless benefits of an unidentified Philadelphia man when he refused to accept a job loading cattle food into box cars because he could not stand the odor.

Black Yankees Renowned Club

Team Will Engage Homestead Grays At Flaherty
Field Next Friday

The New York Black Yankees, who will tangle with the famous Homestead Grays under the lights at P. J. Flaherty Field next Friday evening at 8:30 p. m. in a National Negro League game, have been outstanding on the diamond for the past 18 years.

They are the only team in Negro baseball carrying two coaches to assist the manager to develop prospects for the big leagues.

Barber Manager

The team is managed by the ever aggressive Marvin Barber, an all time great outfielder and all around ball player. His coaches are Mules Suttles, one of the greatest race players ever to pull on a pair of spikes. He is the ex-manager of the former World Champions Newark Eagles. He was also a famous hitter in his day and he is expected to impart his hitting savvy to the crop of rookies that the Yankees have. Ruben Jones, former manager of the Memphis Red Sox and the developer of Dan Bankhead, pitching star of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Montreal Royals, is the other coach.

The Black Yankees are owned and operated by James Semler, outstanding sportsman and Grand Commissioner of Athletics of the Elks.

This year's team is stressing youth, speed and hustle. The Yankees are conditioned, perhaps, better than any other team in the league. They got themselves into shape at Hot Springs National Park, Ark.

The Black Yanks have a reputation of playing excellent baseball.

Future Yank Hero

AGE PITCHER of the Newark Bears in the International League, Bob Porterfield, right hander, has twisted seven straight victories and boosted his club into top spot in the loop. Porterfield is the property of the New York Yankees. (International)

Governor Duff Holds Position

Makes No Commitment On Support Of Candidates At Philadelphia

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, June 5.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff and newsmen have been battling back and forth for the past few months the question of his "intentions" concerning Republican presidential candidates. Duff has answered patiently and consistently time after time that he favors withholding commitments so that the state's GOP delegation to the national convention at Philadelphia this year will be receptive to the "people's choice" at the time of the meeting. If unpledged, it can swing to whatever candidate emerges as the best choice and may be in a position to name the winner Duff reasons. The delegation has 73 votes. During a final interview by Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, he drove home his "no pledge" position again. It was respected by Stassen who nevertheless adopted the attitude that it never hurts to make a last pre-convention bid for support. Stassen won a word of praise from Duff for serving the party by forcing into the open beforehand issues that will be aired at the convention.

Democratic Senators Elmer J. Holland, Allegheny, and Jerome J. Jansan, Philadelphia, have spearheaded the party's "nuisance" campaign against the Republicans. The product of the campaign has been periodical letters to the governor demanding a special session of the legislature be called to handle what they described as serious problems. They included housing and high prices. In each case, the governor has shrugged them aside as anticipated. Duff had little to say of Holland's latest letter demanding dismissal of State Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews because of the latter's alleged opinion that there is no need for the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill.

Matthews is in an embarrassing position of directing the commonwealth campaign to entice more industry in the state. His job is to emphasize that Pennsylvania is a state of opportunity. The job requires a lot of tact and ingenuity, and Matthews, in his eagerness to comply, has made statements not easily retracted nor explained or his exposed a venerable spot. One of the weak spots is housing. Holland quoted Matthews as saying "There is every evidence that private business is taking care of the situation. I do not think there is much need for a Taft-Elliender housing bill." The housing board marking time for lack of funds and projects, is located in his department. While participating in the board's meetings, Matthews has disclaimed influence with the board or responsibility for the board's conduct of business.

The State Game Commission has carried out its threat to publicize game law violations. In its May publication, the commission carried 22 double-column pages naming persons who violated hunting regulations, listing violations and fines imposed. The list has been made available to newspapers.

Pennsylvania maintains first place in production of stone and stone products, according to the State Planning Board. The state produced 18,883,740 net tons of stone in 1946, an increase of 1,100,000 tons over the preceding year, the board said. "This output exceeded that of any other state by approximately 2,000,000 tons," it claimed.

"AULIE OOP"
CHICAGO—When the Aulaccephalodon left the ocean and wriggled onto dry land, it was a "most momentous occasion," according to the Chicago National History Museum. "Aulie" was one of the early amphibians and his fossil remains are now on exhibition at the museum.

WEDDING INVITATIONS

"I am to be married in a few weeks, and I have been told that it is not the custom to send invitations to friends to a church wedding and reception when living in a small community: that everybody is invited automatically when it is a church wedding."

Answer: Surely the bride has the privilege of limiting her guests at her reception. Even if the "whole town" turns out for the ceremony, no one not specifically invited to the reception should go.

Question: Please outline calls to be made after a wedding—whether the bride should call on her friends first or whether they should call on her, etc.

Answer: You and the other attendants must, within three weeks after the wedding, call on the mother of the bride. In fact, all of the wedding guests should call on her. When the bride is established in her new home her friends and relatives should call upon her. It is not the bride's place to make the first call.

Question: We have been engaged for two years. Should my fiancé name the day or does his proposal leave that for me to decide?

Answer: The month of the wedding is usually decided upon by mutual consent but it is always the bride's privilege to set the exact day. Sometimes the date is mentioned when the engagement is announced. Sometimes it remains indefinite due to financial difficulties or other reasons.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped addressed envelopes.

Walking On Air? Well, Try Swimming

Liquid Air Exists At Temperature 312 Below Zero; Demonstration Shows

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—(INS)—A lot of people who feel like walking on air might try swimming in air.

Yes, liquid air does exist, but if you intend to go swimming in some you had better wear your warm bathing suit, for the stuff is a bit chilly—312 degrees below zero.

Just how cold liquid air is can be seen at a demonstration at Philadelphia's Franklin Institute. For instance, an ordinary rubber ball, if dropped after being immersed in liquid air, will shatter like a China tea cup. A flower dipped into the icy liquid can be crushed in your hand until it looks like a handful of dust.

Cold? That's nothing. It's even too cold for the mercury thermometer. Drop a blob of mercury into a vat of liquid air and it becomes as hard as steel.

Air is liquefied by cooling it under pressure. After it is made liquid it must be kept in a container similar to a thermos bottle. If you drop some on the floor it will evaporate in a cloud of smoke.

Besides showing people how cold it can really get, liquid air has commercial uses. Since the hydrogen and oxygen in air liquefy at different temperatures, it is possible to separate the two elements by drawing them off individually as they liquefy.

After the oxygen and hydrogen vaporize again they are put into containers and sold for commercial use.

Then too, liquid air is used in laboratories when a very low temperature must be reached to perform some scientific experiment.

Now that you've heard about liquid air you may not want to swim in air. But if you do, be careful when you dip your foot into the air to see how cold it is. When you try to stand on your foot again your toes will break off like icicles.

Open Air Requiem High Mass Sunday

Open air requiem high mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Edward C. Kuzminski, at the Holy Trinity cemetery memorial altar, Shenango township, Sunday morning at 10:30.

The requiem high mass will commemorate and pay tribute to all the departed members of the Holy Trinity congregation. At the conclusion of the requiem mass Fr. Kuzminski will preach the eulogy. The music and singing will be under the direction of Miss Verna Drapko, church organist.

The obsequious service will conclude with group singing and collective prayer. A special bus will transport the members of the parish from the church to the cemetery.

After the services the annual church outing, will be held at the Lysko farm, across from the cemetery.

W. & J. Given Mellon Gift For Dormitory

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Washington and Jefferson College has received a gift of $300,000 from the W. L. and May T. Mellon Foundation of Pittsburgh for construction of a modern, four-story dormitory on the campus.

President James H. Case, Jr. announced that the gift was made in memory of the late James Ross Mellon of the class of 1865, Jefferson College.

The dormitory will be built of fireproof brick, and styled similar to Georgian architecture. It will house 77 students. This is the largest single gift ever received by the college.
